

CLEP Advantages & Limitations

Advantages	Possible Limitations
No specific course enrollment is required	CLEP exams are offered for academic courses only
Students may opt to take a CLEP exam for credit at any time	CLEP exam fees are required. Colleges may also charge tuition or fees for credit by departmental examination or for experience
CLEP exam scores are accepted at colleges and universities nationwide	Not all college or university departments offer or even accept credit by departmental exam or for experience.
There is a large selection of CLEP exams for academic courses
High school students can bank CLEP exam scores pending college enrollment	