Estacado Early College High School (EECHS) is an exciting partnership between Texas Tech University and Lubbock Independent School District's Estacado High School. The EECS is the only school of its type within Lubbock ISD and is the only partnership of its kind with Texas Tech University.

This exclusive partnership provides students with an opportunity to earn up to sixty (60) college hours completely free of charge. This is a value of $10,000-$40,000. These hours are transferrable to other four-year institutions. Counselors from both LISD and TTU can assist students with transferring their credits to colleges other than TTU.

EECHS boasts exceptional teacher and professor partnerships and rigorous academics. The school allows high school students to take college courses on their home campus at Estacado High School. All courses are taught by credentialed Texas Tech University faculty. Students will receive the same experience as a first year student at Texas Tech University.

EECHS attracts the best and brightest students who have the potential to be future leaders. However, EECHS recognizes that there are any number of situations that may have kept students from reaching their full potential. As such, EECHS does not seek perfect students, but students who are perfectly willing to commit to do their best, try their hardest, and succeed despite the odds.

Benefits:

- Earn up to 60 college hours at NO cost to you ($10,000- $40,000 value)
- Small classes with individualized assistance
- Academic and social support services for student success
- Increased college readiness
- Reduced barriers to college access
- Face to face interactions with real Texas Tech faculty and staff
